Interest over time ?

Marketers have less time to get work done.

Only 19% of their time is spent on their primary job.

31% of marketers say creativity is their biggest skill, but they need time to be able to bring it to their projects.

There's more work to do than can ever be done.

of workers are either completely overwhelmed or barely hitting their deadlines.

- Marketing is complex
- Campaigns and projects can span years
- Integrated marketing requires a lot of coordination across channels
- It's a herculean effort to launch campaigns to market
- Buyer behaviors and needs now change faster than marketers can keep up

The current environment is accelerating change even faster than before.

January 2020

of traditional marketers were already planning to adopt Agile within a year.

April 2020

Because of market changes due to the pandemic, 56% of marketers say their biggest challenge is managing constantly changing priorities and rapidly shifting plans.

Agile produces real results.

Agile benefits for marketing teams

Faster time to get things released.

Time is money. Agile methodologies set up structure to move projects from ideation to delivery faster. Respondents improved their speed-to-market by 53%.

Adapt and respond faster.

Agile helps to switch gears quickly and more effectively. 51% of marketing teams can adapt and respond faster.

93% of Agile CMOs say they can switch gears more quickly & more effectively #AgileMarketing via @AgileSherpas Improve productivity.

With enhanced visibility, the right amount of communication and collaboration, 53% of marketing teams are more productive.

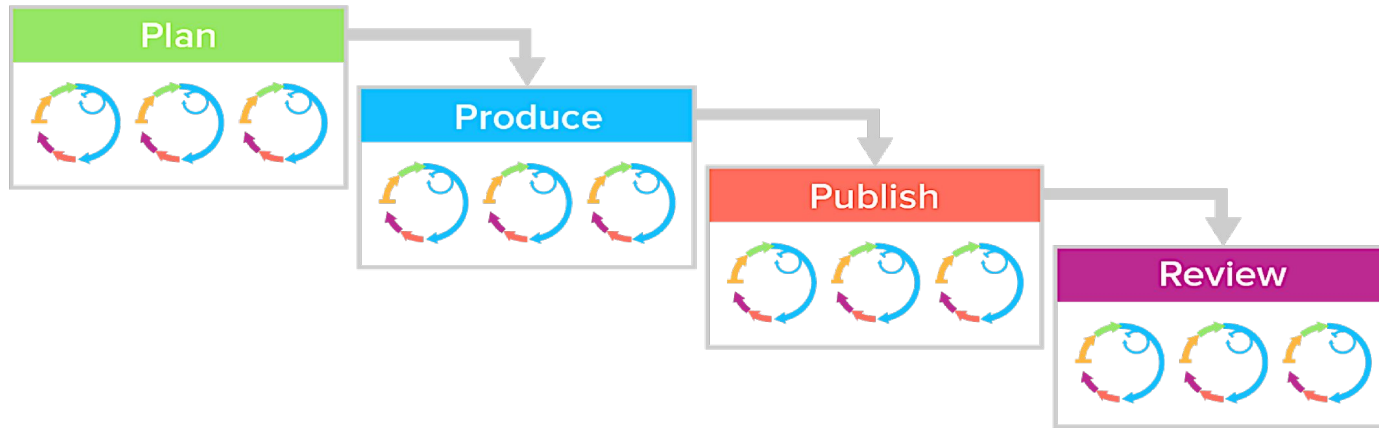

Stay prioritized.

Agile led to enhanced prioritization of the things that matter. 53% of teams are able to stay proactive rather than reactive.

Change how your team works—and thinks about work.

Most marketing teams are still using traditional Waterfall project planning.

Two big problems with Waterfall.

1

Rigid planning.

Requires a knowledge of an exact outcome during early planning.

2

Rigid timelines.

Takes several months, even years, to deliver projects/campaigns.

Applying one or more Agile friendly work management frameworks.

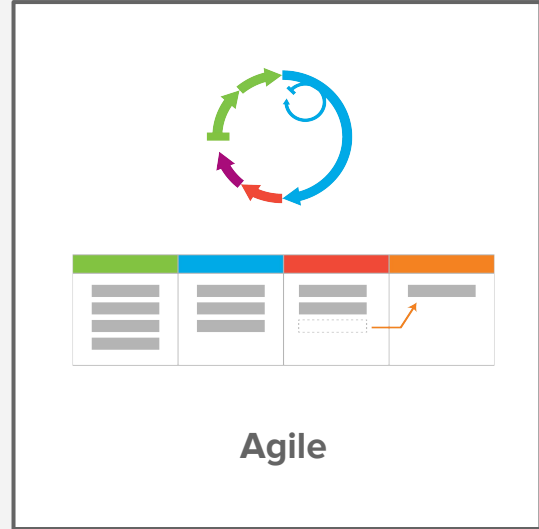

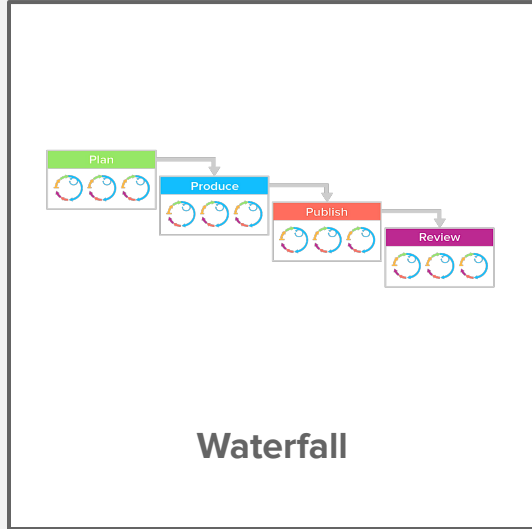

Scrum

Kanban

Most use mixed-methodology at first.

Doing vs. being agile.

DOING

Hard deadlines

Big projects/campaigns

Keeping the status quo

Rigid assignments

BEING

Focus on iterations

Small iterations and MVP

Continuous improvement

Allow teams to self-organize/self-select

Ways to get started

Change how you work to be more Agile.

Build your backlog.

Try out Kanban or start sprinting.

Continually measure, iterate and plan.
